HARVARD RULES FAVORITE TO WIN FROM TIGERS

Orange Faces Crimson Today Determined to Play Game They Staged in Chicago.

By TOM THORP, Football Coach of New York University and Gridiron Authority.

(Written for Cosmopolitan New Service.) NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Harvard's veteran eleven rules a slight favorite over Bill Roper's fighting band of Tiger warriors in their gridiron classic at Cambridge today. The Old Nassau outfit is going to face the Crimson with the determination to stage the sort of battle they displayed out at Stagg field a few weeks ago. That brand of fight would make Princeton a mighty hard team to beat.

The system of football that Percy Haughton established at Cambridge is recognized by all gridiron critics as being about as good as any in the history of the sport. It came through with white colors last season, when the Crimson material was not of the best sort. This year conditions at Cambridge have changed. Bob Fisher had the advantage of starting the season with first-class material. In fact, most authorities believe he has the best backfield material in the country. Charley Buell is the smartest field general playing the game. He is a big asset to the Harvard team. The remainder of the backfield is composed of veterans.

Princeton's hope for victory rests in the fact that Bill Roper is a wonderful mentor who can inject fight into his team.

Football is fight. Make no mistake on this score. If a team is not in the right frame of mind when it takes the field it cannot win. You can teach a pupil every secret of the game, but if he does not feel that he is quite as good as the other man, he is going to lose.

That is what has been the trouble with a whole lot of colleges this season. The coaches allowed their players to get into the wrong frame of mind. A team that won't be beat can't be beat. That is the sort of spirit that is going to characterize the playing of the old Nassau eleven in Cambridge stadium.

It has kept the Orange and Black from killing in the dust on many occasions. Roper is the man who put fight into Princeton football, and if Princeton wins today full credit for the victory will be his alone.

However, it is likely that he will not shine as well when confronted with a veteran of the Buell type. It is the belief that their general will outplay his Tiger rival, which causes all Cambridge to look for a Crimson victory. Whether or not this will prove to be the case only the game can tell. If Gorman outshines Buell, the honors will likely go to the Tigers.

CRANE SCORES BASEBALL OWNERS WITH OLD IDEAS

By SAM CRANE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The question has frequently been put to me: "Why is it that all the players who appear to be interested in a new playing fraternity are members of clubs belonging to the National League?"

I will say right off the reel that I think the American League players have more sense than those of the parent baseball organization. There may be some few club owners of the National League who are unwilling to "loosen up," have only "one-way pockets," and all that. I have many own ideas on the subject and could probably guess who they are.

They are the ones who are making probably the loudest shouting to their constituents against those progressive owners who look ahead and can glimpse the fact that players are worth all they earn.

Surely any manager or club owner that is not sensible enough to grasp that idea are not up to date, nor are they the ones who ought to benefit by the big boom the National game has enjoyed in the last four years.

They have thought, by their shrewdness in hiring cheap talent, that they have money enough to compete with the wealthier clubs, that can afford to put out coin to make their teams the real thing—the headlines.

There are squealers who protect themselves by the counsel afforded them by the stronger teams, made so by the liberality of their partners in spending money where it does the most good for the continued support of their patrons.

What places any club or city prominently on the baseball map—only a winner? Nothing else can do it. Still there are some squealers who are more than anxious to secure the date "plums" in every city whose management will spend the money.

In fact, they tumble over themselves to have their weak teams set the best dates on the Polo grounds and in other cities where the club owners lay out the money to get winners.

I will venture to say, and I can get the figures to prove it, that there are three Eastern clubs that have paid their overhead expenses ever since Sunday baseball was legalized in this city from their share of the receipts by their teams playing Saturdays and Sundays on the Giants' home grounds.

ROAMERS AND STANTONS WILL SETTLE OLD GRUDGE

The Roamers and Stantons, old rivals in the northeast section, will fight it out tomorrow on the Rosedale gridiron, rivalry between the two 145-pound teams dating from an argument last year.

Thus far the Roamers have not been scored on, although they were held to a scoreless tie by St. Teresa. Tomorrow's game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

The newly organized Roamer team will play the Park View team at 1 p. m. tomorrow on the Catholic University field at 9 a. m. The Juniors will practice at Ten and D streets northeast. The big team will practice at 10 o'clock.

Select Opponent.

Either the Roamers or the Mozarks, of Alexandria, will be the opponents of the Buffalo gridmen tomorrow. Buffalo players are requested to report at 7:30 tonight at the Lovejoy school, and at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow morning at Thirtieth and D streets northeast.

Trinity Wants Games.

Trinity A. C. calls out its basketball quint Monday next. Teams in the 100-pound class that would like to tangle with the club call Manager Bill Nichols, West 1855.

Colgate Loses Leader.

HAMILTON, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Colgate's football eleven must finish the season without Captain Barney Traynor, the big guard, who was injured in the Lehigh game.

Lehigh is Shattered.

Lehigh's varsity eleven was badly shattered by Colgate, three members of the regular team being unlikely to play again for a few weeks. Colgate ripped and tore its lighter rivals apart.

Girls Sail for Home.

The English girls' soccer team, which played the Washington Soccer Club a tie game here, is on the ocean bound for England. They lost three and two won three games on the visit to America.

Rovers Want Games.

Rover A. C., which has been defeated but once this season, would like games in the 100-pound class for Saturdays or Sundays. Call Lincoln 7555 after 6 o'clock p. m.

Meets Navy Five

Thomas "A. White, manager of the Georgetown basketball team, has closed an agreement to play the Navy team at Annapolis January 27. Two games, one at Georgetown and the other at the Coliseum, will be played with George Washington.
